The third suitor, Mr. Stanley Moreton, and during the Kossuth excitement had sefided to themselves.

The Captain proposed after the most approved taste of fashion, dropping gracefully on one knee, and pressing the lips that muras his guerdon. -

When he retired, Claude paid his devoirs, and made his proposals with great earnestness. His professions of disinterestedness were no less emphatic than the Captain's. The painter came next. When alone with the lady of his love he found a voice

He was engaged in self-admiration, when a light step recalled him to sense of propriety. He turned and beheld the widow, but a thick veil covered her face. He drew a chair to her side and addressed her.

" Dearest Isabella," said he, in his most persuasive tones, "allow me to remove the envious screen which shrouds charms that were never meant to be concealed."

" Alas, Captain," said the widow, with a tremulous voice, and drawing her viel yet closer, "those charms exist no longer." "Is it possible!" cried the Captain in a

"Cold-hearted, vain egotist!" said the widow, when he had left: "I rightly guaged your character. You only wished for a handsome wife to enhance your consequence, and parade in society, as you show off your handsome horse in the street. Let us see whether my thoughts have wronged Mr. Carless."

To Careless she told the same story. The young gentleman heard of the loss of her beauty with great nonchalance."

"But this is not all," said Mrs. Champion. " My business man has just been with me all the morning. My investments were most unfortunate. I am completely beggared?

CONVENTION OF ASSOCIATIONS .- The suggestions of "Action," which appeared in our issue of Wednesday, meets with favor, and signs of the times, we must think, urge yet strongly prompt action. The Carolina Times thinks the Convention should meet on the 20th instant, if not sooner. That date BROTHER CRAWFORD'S FAREWELL SERMON. would be perhaps, as early as all the asso-refitted in the BEST STYLE, regardciations could meet and appoint their delegates. If, then, there is to be a Convention of associations, let it meet on the 20th inst., and if we are permitted to make the suggestion, we would say let the Presidents of Columbia at the time above named. As there should be a full meeting, that the whole State should consult together on so impor-tant a question, we would suggest that any Tamilies visiting our Town are solicited to give us tant a question, we would suggest that any Districts that may not yet have formed Kansas associations, should call meetings and send up delegates, who may aid by their Rights in Kansas. For we feel satisfied that the whole State feels an interest in this matter, whether they have taken action yet or has ever agitated or perhaps ever will agitate this country-in it is involved the existence of the Union. The cry of danger has been so frequently raised, we have become familiar to the sound, but now the cry is ominous and should not be disregarded. If we slumber, the enemy will be upon us. Never have the Northern section of the Union shown so much determination as now to oppose, at any hazard, the further progress of Slavery, and consequently the equality of the South, in the Union. Let us then meet in Columbia on the 30th instant, and take calm and deliberate council together. Let calm, thinking, discreet men be sent there whose action will be marked by the greatest prudence .- Newberry Mirror. WALKER'S POSITION .-- We have recently received various and very conflicting accounts respecting the successes and reverses of Walker's army in Nicaragua, and we have been only able therefore to give such accounts for what they were worth. Of one fact we have been 'assured from the most reliable source, that is, that the Eurydice never blockaded Greytown, although port, principally, we believe, at the request of the Agent of the Transit Company .-from Rivas, after a heavy loss, both on his part and that of the Costa Ricans. The Rich Printed American and English LAWNS : atest intelligence informs us that Walker was in Virgin Bay with 700 men, about to invade Costa Rica; that he had 200 men in Granada and 600 elsewhere, that his force consisted altogether of 1,000 foreigners and thon; 500 natives; and that owing to the deprivations they were undergoing there was a great deal of dissatisfaction among his troops. This is the sum total of what we have been able to gather by the British steamer recently arrived from Greytown .-Panama Star, May 23.

WOMEN ARE SOME ON VITUPERATION .-In a street colloquy between Mrs. Smithers HAMS, LINEN GOODS, EMBROIDERIES, and Miss Bender, the other day, the former lady told the latter that she was a skeleton man-trap-a remark which the party addressed reciprocated by calling her antagoconverted the verbal skirmish into a digital tusle, which resulted in the loss of eight artificial teeth and a sorrel wig.

THE ROAD TO HEAVEN .-- An honest Dutch farmer, of New York, was asked his oninion as to which denomination of Christians were on the right way to Heaven.

Vel, den, said he, ven we tide our wheat to Albany, some say this road is the past, and some say dat; but it don't make much difference which road we take, for yen we git dare, day never ask us vich vay we come -and its none of dare pisiness-if our wheat is goot.

SPRAK KINDLY TO THE ERRING .- No bad man is ever brought to repentance by angry words, bitter and scornful reproaches. He fortifies himself against reproofs, and hurls back foul charges in face of his accuzer. Yet guilty and hardened as he seems, he has a heart in his bosom and may be melted to tears by a gentle voice. Whoso, therefore, can restrain his disposition to chide, and can bring himself down to a fallen brother, will soon find a way to better feelings within. Pity and patience are the two keys which unlock the human heart.
